WE ARE COMING, OLD KENTUCKY.

[News Note.—There are 600,000 Kentuckians living all over that part of the world outside of the state, and they are to have a Home Coming Week at Louisville in June, to which all have been invited. They are singing this song.]

We are coming, Old Kentucky,
Six hundred thousand more,
From Mississippi's winding stream
And far New England's shore;
We leave our farms and offices,
The outside things we like,
With our hearts too full for utterance,
And homeward all we hike.

We don't leave much behind us,
Compared with what's before—
We are coming, Old Kentucky,
Six hundred thousand more.

If you look across the hilltops
That meet the distant sky,
Long moving lines of rising dust
You'll pretty soon descry;
And now the wind, an instant,
Tears the cloudy veil aside,
And you'll see your children coming,
Them a-walking as can't ride.

We yearn to roll in Bluegrass,
The golden corn juice pour—
We are coming, Old Kentucky,
Six hundred thousand more.

You have asked us, and we're coming,
All the young ones and the old,
All the men and all the women,
Who are now outside the fold;
We are hungry for the welcome
That we know is waiting there,
We are thirsting for the "How d'ya"
That we know will fill the air.

We have waited long, and waiting
Makes us home to see you, shore—
We are coming, Old Kentucky,
Six hundred thousand more.

—W. J. Lampton.

PEOPLE have long since ceased to fish hand-bills out of the gutters to find out what is going on in town; they read the daily newspapers instead. The man who thinks he can ignore them and succeed, is most likely to discover his mistake when it is everlastingly too late.

THE fellow who thinks that he thinks that he can succeed in drawing a crowd without the aid of local newspaper advertising, may some day grow wise enough to conclude that the local newspaper can get along much better without him than he can get along without the local newspaper.

THE authorities of Newport propose to relieve taxpayers of the expense of feeding hoboes and city loafers. Heretofore they have been placed in Jail and fattened at the public expense. Now it is proposed to invent a rock-pile for the entertainment of these gentlemen, and it goes without saying that the number will grow beautifully less.

THIS from The Lancaster Record should meet the hearty approval of every Editor in the state—

"The newspapermen of Kentucky were never bound so closely together as now, and when their proposed warfare on cheap John politicians and burr-tailed Legislators begins you may look for a rattling of dry bones, the like of which has never been witnessed. Instead of serving as the doormat of the community, as in former years, the newspapermen of Kentucky today are the most independent set of professional men in the state. They think and act for themselves, and are led by the nose by no man or set of men."

Our Colored Citizens.

There will be a financial rally at the Bethel Baptist Church Sunday. Rev. P. Young of Lexington has been engaged to preach on that day.

Mr. James Walker, mother and sister, of Fort Wayne, Ind., arrived here Thursday afternoon. He will join his brother, John, who is here in business.

The Morris Harvey College Baseball team of Barboursville, W. Va., passed through the city this morning for Millersburg, where they play the Military boys today.

J. H. Sanborn, Chief Engineer in the construction of our new streets, accompanied by Messrs. W. B. Smith, T. E. Dean and W. S. Lee, all of Huntington, W. Va., were in the city yesterday.

THE Ohio ins and the Ohio outs threaten to make a whole lot of trouble for the dear people, and a whole lot of fees for the lawyers, because Governor PATTISON insists on being sick. It is claimed by some that everything that has been done at Columbus since the first of January is of no force whatever, and some "ambulance chaser" has dug up the proof to prove it. The plan is to declare that the Governor is incompetent to perform an official act, by reason of a "disability" clause in the whiskerettes of the law.

COLONEL KANG YU WAN, President of the Chinese Reform Association, a few days ago took a shy at Uncle Sam's Exclusion Act in this unvarnished English—

"My countrymen see emigrants of all other Nationalities every year pouring into the United States by the million, while the sober, industrious, law-abiding Chinaman is rigorously excluded. They naturally resent this, and are deeply humiliated by it.

"To disregard what is simple fairness to us today means to alienate the sentiments of a Nation able to think and act for itself."

And it must be confessed that the Colonel has at least WAN the best of the argument.

PERHAPS IT CURED HIM.

Captain Mark Casto was being congratulated on his gift of $1,500 from the Carnegie Hero Fund for bravery in the wreck of the Cherokee.

"The gift was unexpected," said Captain Casto, with a modest smile. "It was as unexpected, though by no means as unpleasant, as the retort that a wife made to her husband when he came home at 3 o'clock in the morning.

"The man came home very quietly. In fact, he took off his shoes on the front doorstep. Then he unlocked the door and went cautiously and slowly upstairs on tip-toe, holding his breath.

But light was streaming through the keyhole of the door of the bedroom. With a sigh he paused. Then he opened the door and entered.

"His wife stood by the bureau, fully dressed.

"I didn't expect you'd be sitting up for me, my dear," he said.

"I haven't been," she said. "I just came in myself."

FIFTY YEARS AGONE!

Anniversary Exercises Yesterday at Minerva College

Mason county is not, and has not been, without her philanthropists; and of these perhaps none stands out more prominently than he who made possible the splendid educational institution of which the thriving little village of Minerva is justly so proud.

Going back half a century, one of the quiet, unpretentious residents of that section of Mason was James Hieatt, who, childless, lived alone with his good wife in one of the old-fashioned farm houses.

By his steady, earnest work, he gradually accumulated a goodly amount of this world's riches, and at his death he bequeathed to his home town his all, to be used in the establishment of a school.

The funds, in the hands of conscientious Trustees, have ever been used to the best advantage, and today, fifty years later, Minerva has within her corporate limits one of the best schools in the state.

The exercises which took place at the Baptist Church at Minerva last afternoon and evening were to pay loving tribute to the memory of James Hieatt, and to observe the fiftieth anniversary of Minerva College.

Since its foundation many of Mason county's most prominent citizens have received their educational training at this College, and a large number of these former pupils were present at the exercises yesterday.

In 1856 the Board of Education was composed of Messrs. William H. Robertson, J. C. Newcomb, A. A. Winter, Samuel Forman and Samuel Frazer, while in 1906 the men so honored are Mr. T. A. Robertson, Dr. S. E. Pollitt, Dr. J. A. Reed, Messrs. W. T. King, R. N. Brooks and Walter Worthington.

Throughout this long stretch of time the best of teachers have been employed, and every possible care taken that the work, to get the best results, was in capable hands.

For the past five years Prof. E. L. Gillis has been Principal. His efforts have been untiring in making the College one of the very best in the state, and he and his able assistants are to be congratulated on the exercises marking the close of this year's work.

At 3:30 in the afternoon was the Hieatt Memorial, with an address by the Rev. Preston A. Cave of this city. After paying tribute to the ence L. Sallee ably presided as Toastmaster, the exercises resumed at 7:30, following being the program—
